

Moving Storage: Better than a Moving Truck?

In how many ways is moving storage better than a moving truck? A lot! Here are just a few advantages to using moving storage instead of traditional movers:

* You can pack and unpack storage pods at your leisure, since you do not pay for them by the day. Moving trucks, on the other hand, have to be back at the rental shop by a certain day, often by a certain hour, or you pay a hefty fee. That means rushing to pack and unpack them before you run up more charges.

* Unlike trucks, storage pods are modular. If you ordered too small a truck, you have to scramble for a second truck or make a second trip. If the storage pods you ordered are not enough packing space, you only have to call the moving company, and they can deliver as many more pods as you need.

* Moving storage can double as a regular storage facility. Instead of hauling your belongings to your new home, then repacking them and making a second trip to a storage warehouse, you can simply set one of your storage pods aside as permanent storage and let it stay at the storage facility when you call for the rest of your belongings.

* If there will be a delay between moving out of your old house and into your new house, moving storage makes it easy to keep your possessions in storage until you are ready for them. The pods are stacked at the warehouse, and you can visit to retrieve your belongings if you need to. When you are ready, you call for delivery, and the moving company brings the pods straight to you. Simple, clean, stressless.

* Storage pods are more ecofriendly than renting a whole moving truck. Because the pods are smaller, you can pack them more efficiently, using up less space in the truck. You also do not monopolize a whole moving truck. That means less waste of gas, less pollution, and a more efficient use of the earth's resources.

As you can see, moving storage is a more flexible, efficient, and convenient way to move than renting a moving van or buying space in a truck. You save time and trouble, and make the world a greener place. Rather than schedule your move according to the moving company's needs, why not take control of the process and rent moving storage?
