

Self Storage: The Perfect Way Out For Business Relocations

Small businesses have to watch their bottom line. In these days of inflationary trends, high gas prices any activity which can be rationalized and pared is welcome so that the profit advantage is maintained. Office equipment, air conditioning plants and accessories are necessary for enhancing productivity of the staff but are costly and categorized as sunken costs which are inevitable. Each office cube is an expensive piece, an investment which must be preserved to derive the maximum utility. Office cubicles are not only expensive but also delicate and require utmost care especially if a business has to relocate. Businesses moving elsewhere have to face up to two major problems. The first problem is that equipment and cubes being moved suffer damage during transportation necessitating costly replacement. The second problem associated with business relocation is that not all businesses can set up shop at the new place due to lack of ready office space resulting in hefty demurrage charges for the items moved to traditional warehouses. To address these twin problems of relocation, innovative entrepreneurs came up with the concept self storage solutions.

These companies ensure the delivery of the self storage containers to the business office premise. These containers come in varying sizes and cater for all sorts of office equipment and cubes. Self storage companies offer attractive terms and conditions for hire. Thus mini containers can be hired for loading at own leisure without having to stuff items to meet a deadline. The containers are ergonomically designed with a low floor board obviating the need of a ramp or a ladder. All containers have adjustable securing arrangements to ensure safety of the equipment being moved. Adequate packing material is also provided by the self storage company to further enhance safety.

In case the small business does not have a ready office at the new place, self storage companies offer to store away the entire container at their company warehouses. The rates offered are competitive and a business owner can drive a good bargain. Also, most self storage warehouses have round the clock surveillance through CCTV and security guards which guarantees the safety of the business equipment from theft. The warehouses are also well built keeping in mind the possibilities of vagaries of nature. Those requiring climate control conditions for their office equipment can opt for environment control containers during movement as well as environment controlled warehouses. Self storage solutions are thus the best way forward for a safe and a cost effective move for small businesses.
